Announcement
PTW acquisition of K&S

January 26, 2009

On January 1, 2009 PTW-Freiburg, a German manufacturer of high quality dosimetry instruments, acquired the outstanding shares of stock in K&S Associates, Inc. K&S is a calibration laboratory accredited by the American Association of Physicists in Medicine (AAPM), the American Association for Laboratory Accreditation (A2LA) and the Health Physics Society (HPS).

The staff and management of K&S will remain the same as before the acquisition. K&S will continue as an independent subsidiary of PTW-Freiburg providing accredited precision calibration services for all brands of instruments.

This acquisition will strengthen the resources available to K&S, improve our ability to support the mission of the accreditation organizations and continue a 26 year tradition of high quality precision calibration services rendered by highly trained individuals in a personal customer oriented manner.
